This guide contains instructions on how to set up and populate a Thomson Reuter ResearcherID profile. For more information about ResearcherID, please visit http://researcherid.com

Registration

Go to http://link.library.curtin.edu.au/gw?url=CUR_ALMA61116265000001951

OR

Go to http://databases.library.curtin.edu.au/, look for Web of Science under Popular Databases in the right hand column.

Click on the down arrow icon next to Basic Search to open a drop down menu, select Author Search.

In the Author Search screen, enter your last name and initials. Click Select Research Domain.

You may skip the step “Select Research Domain” and click Select Organization to continue.

Select Curtin Univ, and Curtin University of Technology (or any other name variations for Curtin)

Click Finish Search.

Select your articles from the search results, your selection will be saved to your Marked List automatically as you navigate to the next page. If you are on the last page of your search result, click Add to Marked List to ensure selected items are saved to the Marked List.

Once you have completed selecting your articles, in the top navigation bar, click Marked List.

Under “Step 3”, select destination, click Save to ResearcherID – I wrote these publications. Or click on the blue down arrow in the text box to open the drop down menu, then select “Save to ResearcherID – I wrote these publications”.

15 January 2015
You will be prompted to confirm that you authored the selected publications or have been authorised to administer the author’s ResearcherID profile.

If you do not have an existing ResearcherID profile, click No -> Register with ResearcherID

Enter your Curtin email address, click Continue.

Fill in the form to complete registration.

Associate an ORCID

In your profile page, click Get or associate an ORCID.

Follow the prompt to create or log in to your existing ORCID account, click Authorise.

Once complete, you can synchronise profile data between your ORCID and ResearcherID profiles; send your publications to ORCID; or add ORCID publications to ResearcherID profile.
Adding publications using EndNote

You can manually add publications to your ResearcherID profile from EndNote or EndNote Online. However, these publications will not be included in the citation metrics.

All users of ResearcherID automatically have an EndNote online account.

In your ResearcherID profile, click on the EndNote link at the top navigation bar, or enter the URL http://myendnoteweb.com/ in a new window.

Click on My Publications under the ResearcherID section on the left hand side to view your publications in your ResearcherID profile.

You can move any references in EndNote into the My Publications list to automatically populate this information in ResearcherID.
Help

For further information and assistance, please contact the Research Support Team at:

- Curtin Business School ORD-Support-CBS@curtin.edu.au
- Health Sciences ORD-Support-HTH@curtin.edu.au
- Humanities ORD-Support-HUM@curtin.edu.au
- Science & Engineering ORD-Support-SAE@curtin.edu.au