Scopus author identifiers are generated programmatically. There is no option to add or edit publication lists manually. This guide contains instructions on how to make corrections to your Scopus record. For more information about Scopus Author ID, please visit http://help.scopus.com/Content/h_autsrch_intro.htm

Locate your Scopus Author profiles

Go to http://www.scopusfeedback.com/

Enter your surname and initials, click Start.

Scopus Feedback Wizard

Use the Scopus Author Feedback Wizard to collect all your Scopus records in one unique author profile. To locate your documents as completely as possible, please provide all the name variants under which you have published. Once you have submitted the author profile the Scopus Author Feedback Team will process your request within 4 weeks.

If you are unable to find a publication, if there is a problem with the citation count or you have additional feedback, contact the Scopus help desk.

If you have a very common name, you may get an error message.

Return to the search page, click Add affiliation, and add all current and past affiliations to the search form.

Select your profiles

Review all profiles in the search results, select all profiles that are yours. If unsure, check the subject area or click Show recent documents to confirm they are your publications.
Once you have selected all your profiles, click Next.

Select the preferred profile name

In this step, select your preferred name from the drop down list, click Next.

Review your authored documents

In this step, review the list of publications and click X to the left of each publication to remove them from your profile. If you made a mistake, click √ to add them back.

You can click Search for missing documents at the bottom of the screen to add more publications to the list.

Once you have reviewed all publications, click Next.

In the next step, review the content in your profile and click Next to continue, or click back to edit.

The final step, check that your name is displayed correctly, and enter your Curtin email address. Click Submit.
